Farm info

The Dutra brothers have been involved in growing coffee since the day they were born, and have been working for 35 years in coffee farming. The family business started in the 1940's when Jose Dutra Sobrinho began a cultivation in Minas Gerais state, with just over one hectare of land.

Ednilson and Walter are brothers and producers of specialty and organic coffees that are synonymous with quality and differentiation, inside and outside the country.

Dutra farm is located in the beautiful region of Matas de Minas, in the municipality of Manhuaçu, where the coffee production takes place through entirely artisanal processes that make a substantial difference in the final result of the product.

Their green coffee bean is 100% single origin, and organic certified by: National Organic Program (NOP); Canadian Organic Standard (COS); Japanese Agricultural Organic Standard (JAS) and Ecocert Organic Standard (EOS), which is equivalent to the European Regulation.

They also use hand crafted methods to grow their organic and sustainable coffee without chemical fertilizers and pesticides that do more harm than good. All this care requires their farming to be slower, less productive and a little bit harder, but they believe in "Doing things right: for the people, the environment and your morning coffee."

The production takes place in a mountainous region, approximately 1,400 meters above sea level. Due to the artisanal process, the altitude and the soil of the farm, it is possible to obtain a differentiated product and, because of that, the coffees are classified every year among the best ones in Brazil and in the world, both in quality and in sustainability criteria.

The cultivation of coffee happens in cooperation with nature. The coffee plantations grow among rocks, woods and waterfalls, in perfect harmony with the environment. We are so happy to have Dutra Farm on board with such an amazing organic coffee!
